Dear Dr. Chaulia,

As you know, Mexico will host the forthcoming G-20 Summit in Los Cabos, Baja California on 18 and 19th of June 2012. In May 2012, prior to the summit, my government is organizing special activities for selected international journalists invited to visit Mexico to interact with key top government representatives, renowned entrepreneurs, scholars and Mexican journalists who focus on international policy and G-20 issues.

In this regard, I have the honour to confirm that, in view of your strong academic credentials and remarkable analyzing skills on international issues, you have been specially selected to travel to Mexico City and Guadalajara in May 2012 to have a deep understanding of the ongoing G-20 process.

We are sure that your participation will give you a clear perspective of the entire G-20 process and a better understanding of Mexican issues. Please keep close contact with the Embassy staff for details regarding air ticketing, accommodation and program of activities.

Sincerely,

Jaime Nualart
Ambassador
